Big Game party moved to Center Court with C-Webb

The Big Game lost a bit of its luster when both Ohio State and Michigan lost last weekend. The two teams have not both lost the week prior to meeting since 1959. As usual, the winner takes all in this crucial Big Ten match-up. At stake for the No. 7 Buckeyes is a Big Ten title, guaranteed spot in the Rose Bowl, and hope that the teams above us in the rankings lose over the next four weeks.

The OSU Alumni Club of the Sacramento Valley will be watching the game at a new venue.

We'll be joining the Michigan Alumni Club of Sacramento to watch the game and have a great time cheering on our teams. I know the Buckeyes will rebound from their loss to Illinois and pull out the big win. It will be four in a row for Jim Tressel over Michigan and Lloyd Carr. The Wolverines lost to Appalachian State to start the season and will be a tough opponent. But, the Buckeyes will prevail behind the defense. Ohio State 34, Michigan, 17.

We hope to see you out at Center Court with C-Webb, it will be a lot of fun!! Go Bucks!!! Jeff Forward

Shannon still to seek club presidency at '07 club board elections

Current OSU Alumni Club Board member Shannon Still will be seeking the club's presidency with Jeff Forward stepping down and seeking a basic board member seat. Shannon is married to Club Treasurer Jen Still and both have been extremely active in the club since they moved here more than five years ago. Board elections will be held at the Holiday Mixer on Dec. 4th; be sure to send in your RSVPs for the event and get a ballot.

Sharon Cain celebrates the Buckeyes' 2006 victory over the Maize and Blue with Brutus. This year we'll be watching the Buckeyes alongside the Michigan alumni and fans, which is always a good time. Especially when we win. Go Bucks!! We hope to see you at center Court With C-Webb.
